Editorial Review

From Publishers Weekly

Bestseller Strieber (Hybrids) uneasily mixes extraterrestrials and crime in this first in a new thriller series, which opens on a strong note with a terrifying and moving scene. Soon after midnight on November 16, 2002, police detective Errol Flynn Carroll discovers that his 22-year-old wife, Abby, is missing from their smalltown Texas home. It looks as if she put three changes of clothes into her backpack before leaving voluntarily. The marriage was happy and she hadn't mentioned any travel plans, and Flynn spends the next decade trying to discover who or what has taken Abby. When the answer arrives, it's a doozy: an alien killer has been snatching bodies for nefarious purposes. The cat-and-mouse game that follows, which includes the appearance of a mutant Siberian tiger, descends into incoherence as Flynn aimlessly bounces around the country. Many readers will struggle to suspend their disbelief, though fans of Strieber's Communion and other UFO-themed titles may not. Agent: Russell Galen, Scovil Galen Ghosh Literary Agency. (Aug.)

Review

"In Alien Hunter, the trope of aliens on Earth is refitted to provide enough suspense to keep any reader interested. Even those who usually stay away from alien fantasy will be drawn to this reality-based novel. The characters are complex and surprising at various points in the novel, and just when the book begins to feel predictable, Strieber adds another twist. His excellent storytelling will keep readers guessing until the very end." ?RT Book Reviews

"Whitley Strieber at his best--part Stephen King, part Dean Koontz, but always Whitley. Pulse-pounding action and a perplexing puzzle but most of all Alien Hunter has real feeling--a heart as big as the Ritz." ?Douglas Preston, #1 New York Times bestselling author of Impact

"A fast-paced, action-packed thriller that blends Whitley Strieber's famed interest in aliens with a breathless police manhunt." ?David Morrell, New York Times bestselling author of Creepers
