Editorial Review

About the Author

Anne Houtman is Dean of the School of Natural Sciences, Mathematics, and Engineering at California State University Bakersfield. Anne has over 20 years of experience teaching non-majors biology at a variety of private and public institutions, which gives her a broad perspective and a wide view of the education landscape. She is strongly committed to evidence-based, experiential education and has been an active participant in the national dialogue on STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math) education for almost 20 years. Anne's research interests are in the ecology and evolution of hummingbirds. She grew up in Hawaii, received her doctorate in zoology from the University of Oxford, and conducted postdoctoral research at the University of Toronto.
